

THE HENRY G. FRIESEN INTERNATIONAL PRIZE IN HEALTH RESEARCH

2015 NOMINATION FORM

THE PRIZE:

The Henry G. Friesen International Prize was established to honour the leadership, vision and innovative contributions of Dr. Henry G. Friesen in Medical Research and Health Research Policy. The Friesen Prize Program serves to promote the value of scientific knowledge as a benefit to society at large.

Nominees shall be individuals whose work in health-related fields has gained international recognition and skilled in explaining to peers and the public the significance, challenges and opportunities in health research.

The Prize provides a cash award and travel costs and supports an annual Public Forum as well as Institutional visits. FCIHR has collaborated with the Canadian Academy of Health Sciences (CAHS) and CBC Radio One in this venture. A detailed description, Terms of Reference of The Prize and obligations are available at: <http://www.fcibr.ca/prize/about/nomination>
